Policy E-001 - PROGRAMS, SERVICES AND CURRICULUM

Procedure E-001.14 – Home Schooling

The Superintendent recognizes the right of parents to fulfill their obligation to ensure an education for their children by schooling them at home, and therefore directs the school administration to work cooperatively with home-schooling parents.

Home-schooled children may attend the public schools on a part-time basis and/or participate in extracurricular activities, if such attendance does not increase class size beyond the Board guidelines, or interfere with the education of children formally enrolled in the schools on a full time basis. It is understood that the public schools have no obligation under the law to provide services to children who are being home schooled, and that the decision to do so is at the discretion of the Superintendent. No special education or related services shall be provided to a child who is home schooled.

The Board endorses the authority of the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference (C.I.A.C.) to determine eligibility for interscholastic athletics. Participation in athletic extracurricular activities shall be governed by the regulations of the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference.
